We will be collecting new/gently loved beanie babies and small stuffed animals for Riley Children's Hospital in Indianapolis throughout the weekend. These will be donated in memory of Audry Spegal up and coming AJRPA member that never made it to the showing due to her unexpected death at the young age of 4. Audry was cared for at Riley during her illness . Audry was the granddaughter of Gail & Shirley Spegal; daughter of Gregg and Kim Spegal; sister of Megan and Cameron Spegal. Megan and Cameron are heading up the collection, if you have questions, please contact them. There will be "collection" boxes throughout the various sites during the weekend.

As always, there will be a silent auction on Saturday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall. If you have anything you would like to bring to the auction feel free to do so. All money raised will go to the Junior Endowment Fund. Teresa Jackson has graciously offered to oversee the Silent Auction for that weekend.

Jeff Caplinger will provide music/DJ services prior to and during the evening meal on Friday. At approximately 7:30 pm, he will bring out his friends (singing puppets) for you to meet. All ages will enjoy the program. He has performed at all types of gatherings and contests and is looking forward to doing his first "cattle related" event. Tyocia and I have seen him perform and do not feel you will be disappointed in the entertainment. We laughed so hard we cried when we saw him at a friend's graduation party and he had the entire room entranced throughout his performance. Please plan to arrive on Friday to see him perform.

The Shelby County Beef Cattleman's Association is providing the Friday evening meal at the fairgrounds. They will be cooking out at their permanent booth there on the grounds. They will also be helping out throughout the weekend with multiple tasks. If you see them, please thank them.

We will have Thank You cards for all to sign to be mailed after the show to all sponsors/donors/supports, please take time to sign them. Location for them will be announced that weekend
